

comprehensive that the auxiliaries will be... The cadets, under District Inspector... were patrolling in two lorries... when they were ambushed.

LONDON, Nov. 29.—Despatches relating to the killing of fifteen auxiliary police cadets near Kilmainham were read in the House of Commons by Sir Hamar Greenwood, Chief Secretary for Ireland, during the course of the Irish debate to-day.

The party which ambushed the cadets consisted of from eighty to one hundred men, all dressed in khaki and wearing steel trench helmets. The assailants fired from both sides of the road on the lorries and also directed an enfilading fire straight down.

By force of arms some of the recruits were disarmed and brutally murdered; their bodies were rifled and their pockets and valuables and even their clothing were taken. Arms and ammunition were also taken and the lorries burned.

The Secretary thought that with fifteen former officers of the late war thus lying dead the House would not wish to continue the discussion in the face of such a challenge to Parliament and civilization. The subject was then dropped.

ALL BRITAIN IS TAKING PROTECTIVE MEASURES

Ports in England and Scotland Guarded by Police.

LONDON, Nov. 30 (Tuesday).—Other big centres of population besides London and Liverpool are preparing for defence against possible Sinn Fein attacks. Special police guards have been posted in municipal and other public buildings in Glasgow, while the docks and quays of the Clyde are being strongly guarded.

Extra police have been provided for the Southampton docks in order to protect property and shipping.

The insurance business against riots and damages to-day was the greatest in London for a long time. A large proportion of the business came from the Lancashire cotton district, owing to the contention by some of the fire insurance companies that the fires in Liverpool were not covered by ordinary fire policies, and that such incendiaries must be specially insured against.

The precautions taken in the House of Commons against outward demonstrations include the posting of a permanent guard of armed policemen, selected for their skill in the use of the revolver, according to the Daily Mail. The men were supplied with automatic pistols and had orders to shoot to injure anybody attempting to escape after having committed any outrage.

According to the Daily Mail, the Government also will authorize the arming of police for special patrol duty. Special arrangements also are being made for the rapid concentration of large numbers of police, and raids and arrests on a wholesale scale will be made should circumstances warrant.

A police motor boat armed with a machine gun has been placed on patrol along the river front of the Houses of Parliament.

Edward Shortt, the Home Secretary, declared in the House of Commons this afternoon, in reply to questions regarding Saturday night's incendiary dock fires in Liverpool, that there seemed no doubt that the fires were the result of an organized conspiracy, in which members of the Sinn Fein party were engaged.

Half a dozen men who were preparing to set fire to a large lumber yard in the district of Finsbury, an important section of the city of London, less than a mile north of London Bridge, were surprised by a policeman Saturday night. This attempt was almost coincident with the breaking out of incendiary fires in Liverpool.

The policeman challenged a loiterer, who immediately attacked the officer and shouted for help. Five men, with revolvers, answered his call, emerging from behind some empty wagons, and, catching the policeman, who was compelled to liberate the man he had seen, all the men escaped. Searching behind the wagons, the policeman found cotton waste soaked with gasoline had been pushed through a gateway of a lumber yard, and he also discovered two revolvers and 100 cartridges. One of the supposed incendiaries was later arrested.

The man, who said he was William Robinson, a student, 20 years old, was arraigned in police court this morning. A detective inspector testified that when he searched Robinson's rooms he found quantity of Irish Self-Determination League and Gaelic League literature.

SINN FEINER ARRESTED FOR LIVERPOOL FIRES

Declines to Give His Name, but Says He's From Dublin.

By the Associated Press.

LIVERPOOL, Nov. 29.—A young man who declined to give his name but said he was a Sinn Feiner and a native of Dublin was arraigned in the police court here this morning on a charge of murder in connection with the cotton warehouse fires Saturday night. He is 28 years old.

The police stated that the prisoner and two other men were discovered near the scene of one of the fires acting in a suspicious manner. The three men tried to escape when the police accosted them and the man under arrest is accused of having fired at the officers. His bullet went astray and killed a civilian.

It is charged by the police that the man under arrest had in his possession plans of the premises in which fires occurred. He was remanded to prison for one week.

The police force was busily engaged to-day rounding up men suspected of having played a part in Saturday night's incendiary fires. The guards in the affected parts of the city have been strengthened, and the situation to-day appeared to be well in hand.

The police are working under a tremendous strain owing to the influx of desperadoes, some of whom are said to be American "gun men," whose exact mission is not known but whose presence the police believe has an obvious explanation. The entire police force is exerting the greatest activity in an effort to prevent a recurrence of the fires and possible attempts at assassinations.

The damage to property in Saturday's fires will total hundreds of thousands of pounds.

IRISH WOMEN DROP RAGS FOR RICH FURS

Receive Loot After Raids—Sears Under Arrest.

By the Associated Press.

BELFAST, Nov. 29.—During Sunday night the headquarters of the Transport Workers Union on Camden Quay, Cork, and an adjoining house were burned. At several other places which were set on fire there was considerable looting. Women who ordinarily are declared to have been clothed in little better than rags are said to have been strolling about the streets wearing $500 fur coats.

DUBLIN, Nov. 29.—The Freeman's Journal office was set afire by armed men and masked men about midnight. Three girls living on the top floor had a narrow escape.

Raids and arrests continued to-day. Among the persons taken into custody was William Sears, Sinn Fein member of Parliament for the Southern Division of County Mayo.

"God forbid the day may ever dawn that the Irish people should fail to come to their bishops and priests, who know the nobility of the race, with its spiritual ideals and lofty aspirations for the purest and the best."

"The Catholic Church the world over loves all her children of every race. The Archbishop of New York rules a flock of many bloods and has endeavored to be a father to all, and has every reason to know that he has the loyalty and affection of over a million souls."

MRS. MACSWINEY DUE FRIDAY.

Mrs. Muriel MacSwiney, widow of Terence MacSwiney, Lord Mayor of Cork, who started himself in Brixton Prison, will be met upon her arrival here Friday by a committee of 300 women, headed by Jeannette Rankin, former Representative in Congress. It was announced last night by the Friends of Irish Freedom. There will be no reception when the Celtic vessel on board of which Mrs. MacSwiney is a passenger, reaches her slip, it having been arranged that the committee will merely meet the late Lord Mayor's widow and welcome her to the United States.

Those who have been asked to join in the welcome were told to wear crepe bands on their consuetudes.

R. R. BROTHERHOODS WARN LABOR BOARD

Demand Method of Adjusting Differences.

CHICAGO, Nov. 29.—Warning that the "ultra-conservative" leaders of the railroad brotherhoods would cease their efforts to hold their men in check unless some plan to adjust differences between roads and employees is found was delivered to the United States Railway Board to-day by Warren S. Stone, Cleveland, grand chief of the Brotherhood of Railway Engineers.

Appearing before the board with officials of fifteen recognized railway unions, Mr. Stone announced that after being classed "for 17 years as an ultra-conservative, I have arrived at the point where I am through making excuses to the new."

"There must be some plan found somewhere, some place whereby we can get results for these men," Mr. Stone continued. "The Locomotive Engineers have carried the load of responsibility for years. We have tried to embody your board's decision of last July in agreement with 355 railroads, but only four of these agreements have been signed. The roads refuse to sign until the board passes on the question of rules."

The decision last July raised railroad wages $600,000,000.

W. D. Vanderlip Wanted to Punch Red American

Copyright, 1929, by THE NEW YORK HERALD. Special Cable to THE NEW YORK HERALD.

New York Herald Bureau, London, Nov. 28.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 28.—LIP of Los Angeles met one other "American" in Moscow. Coming from the Kremlin one day an enthusiast seized his hand and shook it.

"Hullo, Mr. Vanderlip," said the stranger. "Gee, I'm glad to see another of us."

"Yes, who are you?" Vanderlip asked.

"I am just in to-day from New York," said the enthusiast. "I am Schlesinger."

"Schlesinger? I don't know the name," Vanderlip replied.

"Sure, Schlesinger, vice-president of the garment union," replied the other. "Have you heard the news from New York to-day? It's glorious. There's another strike on the subway."

"We were right on the Foreign Office steps, and I couldn't poke him in the nose as I wanted to," said Vanderlip.

VANDERLIP VIEWS AMERICAN EMPIRE

this includes Korea. The Japanese are caught at last between the upper and nether millstones as represented by Russia and China on one side and the United States on the other. Russia is grinding.

"The Open Door," for which America has clamored for thirty years, will soon be a reality.

"The Russian people do not ask your sympathy. Their message to you is: Tell the American people to send us locomotives and our armies will never rest until every Japanese in Siberia are under the ground or in the sea."

"They do not seek conquest, but are determined to have back their own. Let America, Canada, Australia and Russia make of the Pacific a free ocean! The political situation never again will be so propitious. The interest of Canada and Australia is linked with America. This, with the condition that England's finances are in and the attitude of the Labor party will allow her to give support to her unnatural Malay ally."

"Russia has taken up America's task and is going to it man fashion. They are not the same people that Japan conquered a few years ago. Then it was said that one Jap was equal to four Russians. Now the situation is reversed. They were slaves then and bowed their backs to the cut and slash of the knout. To-day they are free men looking the world in the face and daring it to come on, heads up, eyes aglow with that spirit of understanding which makes them unconquerable."

"I hold no brief for Communism. I have seen it working, and I know that it is not practicable. I am going to make a broad statement, and that is that neither do the Russian people think so, and this includes many of the leaders. There are few of the principal Communist laws which were started three years ago that are in force to-day."

"Free speech prevails in Russia as it does not in America. The only thing necessary to bring peace and reconstruction to Europe is that Congress restore trade relations with Russia."

"I have joined the frontiers of Russia and America, making a broad band of Republicanism around the world, from Atlantic to Atlantic. I offer you 400,000 square miles of territory with vast stores of fuel and fish. I offer you the chance to supply 150,000,000 white people with commodities reaching a total of $3,000,000,000 for which they give in return as payment raw materials from a half of the continents of Europe and Asia, great stores of which are ready for immediate shipment. The open door to 600,000,000 Chinese and Koreans is ready for you to enter."

"Go to it, you big, glorious sons of the Golden West! Line up your Borahs, Underwoods, Johnsons, Phiellans and demand that Congress immediately restore trade relations with Russia. The Pacific is your heritage. Make it a free ocean. Three-fourths of the population of the world face it. They have waited for us throughout the centuries. Now it's up to you."

CONSTANTINE WINS, BUT MUST BE GOOD

Allies Feel Sure Greeks Will Elect Him King Next Sunday.

WILL ACCEPT PROMISES

If Not Fulfilled, Would Restore to Turkey Advantages Taken Away.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK HERALD. Copyright, 1929, by THE NEW YORK HERALD.

New York Herald Bureau, London, Nov. 29.

With the departure of Premier Leygues of France from London and the arrival here of Count Sforza, Italian Premier, THE NEW YORK HERALD correspondent is informed that a practical agreement has been reached by the allied premiers not to act regarding King Constantine until he has had an opportunity to make good his promises. There is general agreement, from information in the hands of the allied correspondents, that Constantine will be selected as King of Greece in the plebiscite next Sunday.

There is a general disposition to accept at their face value the representations made informally on behalf of the new regime in Greece, that the Athens Government will carry out the Venizelos foreign policy. In the light of information available here, the French agitation for conferring on Turkey the advantages hitherto held by Greece through the Treaty of Sevres is regarded as a purely diplomatic club held over Constantine's head. It is nevertheless believed that it will be an effective club.

British Would Agree.

There is no disposition in British official circles to regard this campaign by the French press, which has hitherto been notoriously ready to take up grievances against Great Britain, in the light of similar campaigns regarding Russia and Germany. In view of the huge Moslem population under British hegemony, which at this very moment is an object of delicate solicitude both in India and Egypt on the part of the British Government, Great Britain would be anything but averse to a policy of restoring a certain modicum of Moslem power about the Dardanelles. The slightest willingness of French opinion to consider revision of the Treaty of Sevres, therefore, is well received here.

Downing Street is not exactly eager to reenter the complicated negotiations now in progress to a new Near East settlement, but there is no room looking with any such prospect against which the British might be driven or which might cause a rift in the Anglo-French relations. What is seriously worrying Downing Street is the possibility that Premier Leygues might fall over the Vatican question. Information here is to the effect that he has a hard battle on his hands, and the British Foreign Office would deeply regret having to deal with a new French Government because of the injection of an issue with which it is not concerned.

Count Sforza and Premier Leygues had a half hour conference before the latter left here at noon to-day. Later both issued statements which indicated only that they found each other agreed thoroughly on matters of principle regarding Greece.

One element which has deeply complicated British opinion regarding the Near East settlement is the publication of Secretary Colby's note regarding Mesopotamian oil. The Foreign Office here promises the entire correspondence publication soon. Meanwhile a semi-inspired statement is bolstering British opinion along lines already indicated in THE NEW YORK HERALD, namely, that the United States has slight ground to "butt in" on the Mesopotamian problem, since in connection with it she has sacrificed not a man and spent not a dollar, where Great Britain has poured out both.

In the first place, officials here express surprise that Mr. Colby should bring the matter to a head so seriously and further surprise that he should permit such action to leak out in the press. The general tone of all press and semi-official comment is that America is claiming equal rights in a country where she has not accepted equal responsibilities. Best informed persons here, however, predict that the British reply to Mr. Colby will make a prima facie case to the effect that, so far as the British Government is concerned, every one has equal rights in Mesopotamia and any other territory over which a mandate applies.

It has already been pointed out that the Anglo-French agreement regarding Mesopotamian oil merely disposes of a matter already exclusively Anglo-French, even before the war. Disposition is merely demanded by Anglo-French relations under the mandates—business rather than political relations—in which the United States never had part.

It was learned in this connection to-night that the British have stirred up the Persians either to affirm or to repudiate the Anglo-Persian agreement, in which oil largely enters. The British Minister in Tehran has informed the Persian Government that British troops cannot remain in Persia indefinitely. This is polite diplomacy for saying that Great Britain cannot remain dominant there and cannot continue to supply Persia with temporary funds unless the Anglo-Persian agreement is formally endorsed. In consequence of this information has come from Persia that every effort is being made there to hasten the election of the new Persian Parliament, which, under the terms of the draft agreement, may either accept or reject the agreement, or may seek a similar arrangement with any other nation or group of nations.

JAPANESE BURN AND SLAY IN MANCHURIA

Missionary Reports Intention to Wipe Out Christian Communities.

CROPS FIRED, MEN SHOT

Tokio Says Villages Were in League With Outlaws, but Is Investigating.

By the Associated Press.

TOKIO, Nov. 29.—Canadian missionaries in Manchuria have sent a signed statement to the Associated Press telling of massacres alleged to have been committed by Japanese troops in Chien Tao. Dr. Martin, a Presbyterian missionary at Yung Jung, says:

"The Japanese sent 15,000 troops into this part of China with the seeming intention of wiping out the entire Christian community, especially young men. Villages were methodically burned daily and the males in them were shot. Yung Jung is surrounded by a ring of villages, which suffered from fire and wholesale murder."

Dr. Martin gives accounts by survivors which describe the Japanese infantry as surrounding the villages and setting fire to the crops and shooting the male inhabitants. He names thirty-two villages in which massacres occurred or which were burned. In one village, he says, 148 persons were killed. Reports received from other missionaries tend to corroborate the story of Dr. Martin.

The War Office here to-day informed the correspondent that there were 5,000 troops in the region referred to. Churches and schools had been burned only when there was evidence that they were being used for the purpose of creating disaffection. It was also declared that the only villages burned were those in which a majority of the inhabitants were in league with outlaws.

A commission of inquiry has been sent to the scene.

SHOE FACTORIES TO REOPEN.

ROCHESTER, Nov. 29.—Announcement was made here to-day that within three weeks Rochester factories making women's shoes, now idle, would begin at full capacity to fill orders for spring stock. The factories employ about 23,000 men and women, more than 20,000 of whom have been idle for about two months.

JAPANESE PACT NOT READY.

Negotiations So Far Informal, Says Secretary Colby.

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Nov. 29.—Secretary of State Colby telegraphed to-day to Gov. W. D. Stephens that treaty negotiations with Japan are "informal and tentative and have not as yet reached the point of submission and of formal consideration."

The despatch replied to the protest of the Japanese exclusion league of California against provisions in the treaty that would conflict with the anti-alien land law of California.
